Neighbors United targets westside neighborhoods

Water conservation efforts remain vital for future supply

he city is amending its outdoor watering restrictions again this year, allowing Modesto residents to water any day of the week, regardless of their street address.

Some rules still apply and conservation efforts should not be overlooked. For instance, outdoor watering is prohibited from noon to 7 p.m. daily and a city permit is required to hose off sidewalks, driveways and buildings. Also, water leaks, once identified, should be repaired within 24 hours and a positive shut-off nozzle should be used when washing your car. To report water waste, call the City of Modesto at 571-5103.

■ Know what lies beneath the surface

f you are planning to dig or excavate for any reason, it is important to know what lies beneath the surface. Whether on city streets or in your own backyard, striking an underground gas pipe, electrical line, or sewer line can be extremely hazardous to people and propertv.

To find out where underground lines are located. you are encouraged to call the Underground Service Alert (USA) at least two working days before you start to dig.

Underground Service Alert is a free, convenient information and notification service supported by utilities like PG&E and the City of Modesto.

When you place a toll-free call to USA, an operator will ask where you plan to dig and will contact all the appropriate utilities, who will mark any underground installations they have at the excavation site. Once a site is marked, homeowners or contractors doing the work are responsible for determining the exact depth and routes of underground facilities.

Calls should be made before digging fence post holes, installing septic tanks, clearing drainage canals, planting trees, excavating, dredging, drilling, trenching, blasting or grading.

USA may be reached by calling 1-800-642-₹ 2444.

Q. What is redevelopment & how is it paid for?

A. Redevelopment is a tool to encourage new private investment into deteriorating areas. Its efforts focus on creating an environment which stimulates new private investment in an area that becomes blighted, unsightly or an economic liability for the community in terms of jobs and services. The primary source of funding is called tax increment, which is the new property tax paid by new development after creation of the redevelopment area. It is not funded by general city revenue, which is money used for services such as public safety, streets or transportation.
